NextGen Proteins research hopes to fulfil protein supply needs for feed and food

January 11, 2022 by Eilidh Marshall

As part of the Horizon 2020 (H2020) scheme, Mowi Feed is participating in three significant EU research projects, including one by NextGen Proteins. In line with an increasing global demand for high-quality protein for both food and feed, the NextGen Proteins project hopes to optimise the production of three alternative proteins and verify their use
